Dr. Arianna Becerril García

Doctor in Computer Sciences
Executive Director, Redalyc, Network of Diamond Open Access Journals
Chair, AmeliCA, Open Knowledge for the Global South
Professor, Autonomous University of the State of Mexico

Full-time professor at the Autonomous University of the State of Mexico (UAEM). Member of the National System of Researchers (SNI) of Mexico. She was the recipient of the 2022 Young Scientist Award by the Council of Science and Technology of the State of Mexico and the 2021 Early Career Scientist Award (South America and the Caribbean) by the International Science Council. She holds a PhD and MSc in Computer Science, Tecnológico de Monterrey, Mexico. And she holds a BA in Computer Engineering, UAEM. She is part of the founding team of the Scientific Information System Redalyc.org where she is the current Executive Director. Dr Becerril is founder and president of AmeliCA Conocimiento Abierto S.C. She's co-founder of Red Mexicana de Repositorios Institucionales ("Mexican Network of Institutional Repositories"). She participated as part of the advisory team of the Open Access national legislation in Mexico in 2014. She's currently a member of the the council of the Directory of Open Access Journals (DOAJ). She also participates as advisory board' member of different international initiatives. She has coordinated various multilateral projects supported by UNESCO, in partnership with organizations such as the Indian Statistical Institute, and governmental entities as the Ministry of Education, Science, Technology and Innovation of Angola, where she participated in the recommendations for the national legislation on Open Access.

Twitter: @ariannabec
e-mail: arianna.becerril@redalyc.org